Results & Findings

Wednesday, November 10, 2021 appointment

Pool Status

Attempts were made. At this time, the results have not been confirmed, and Red Rhino will wait to hear from the homeowner if needed.

Miscellaneous

Gutters are not connected to the pump. When pressure testing the gutter line from the pump, the pressure quickly builds and holds before getting to the gutters. This indicates that the gutter line is capped underground. Instead of gutters working as normal, these gutters act like an overflow. When water is added to gutters, the water is sent to waste.

Test Related

Marked water level in pool. Water loss results will be confirmed by a (phone call) on (11/10).

Friday, November 5, 2021 appointment

Pool Status

Confirmed water level is holding solid. The pool is not leaking. However the gutters now do need to be broken out to properly test.

Deck Disclaimer:

RRLD does not offer custom staining or textures. We will make every attempt to match the deck when applying deck patches. If an exact match is desired (color and texture), customer will need to hire a professional deck company to apply the patch.

Patch Disclaimer:

Red Rhino Leak Detection (RRLD) will make every attempt to match the existing surface when applying patches. However, due to variations of the product from the manufacturer and aging of the existing surface, it is impossible to achieve an exact match when patching. Refinishing the entire surface is the only way to ensure a consistent appearance without variation. Therefore, RRLD cannot be held responsible for color and texture variations which are unavoidable when patching.
